Linear Earns Resi Award for DMC1 iPlay At CEDIA EXPO 2011

Carlsbad, Calif., (October 21, 2011) – Linear was honored for its industrial design acumen at CEDIA EXPO 2011 when its DMC1 iPlay™ iPod Dock – MP3 & CD Player was presented with a Best AV Component Resi Award from Residential Systems magazine.

Residential Systems presented only 20 companies with Resi Awards in recognition of their products' design aesthetics, user-friendliness, and originality, making the Resi a difficult and prestigious honor to achieve.

"This year was further evidence that challenging economic times have not limited the creativity and artistry of the top manufacturers exhibiting at CEDIA EXPO," Residential Systems magazine editorial director Jeremy Glowacki said. "Linear should be particularly proud of its DMC1 iPlay iPod Dock, MP3, & CD Player, because the Resi Award is a very exclusive honor that is targeted specifically at industrial design, which requires careful attention to detail and a significant financial commitment. Congratulations to Linear for its standout design."

The DMC1 iPlay is an entertainment accessory for Linear's DMC1 and DMC3-4 Intercom/Music Systems. The DMC1 iPlay connects to, and will charge all portable digital music sources, including Apple® iPod®, iPhone®, MP3 players, and smart phones, plus CD and MP3 format discs, transforming any Linear DMC1 and DMC3-4 System into a digital music and entertainment hub.
